LEARNERSPREP AND GO TEST GO RELEASE AUSTRALIAN ROAD RULES QUIZZES

Hamilton, Ontario, Canada - (August 19, 2005) – Mobile practice and self-assessment quiz developer Go Test Go Inc. today announced the release of three Australian Road Rules quizzes; General Driving, Vehicle Safety and Road Signs. Building upon a previously announced partnership with Learnersprep Training Limited to collaborate on a series of mobile quizzes to assist those studying for a learner's driving licence or permit, the Australian quizzes expand Go Test Go's driving content to reach the Australian market. The tests will be made available on Telstra, Australia's leading telecommunications and information services company, joining additional titles including popular Australian Trivia quizzes.

Mobile driving quizzes are available to consumers with Internet and Java enabled (can play downloadable games) phones – the majority of phones today. Quizzes will be sold via the web at <http://www.gotestgo.com/store> and <http://www.learnersprep.com>. Cingular/ATT customers can purchase quizzes directly through Go Test Go's mobile storefront (<http://gtg.mp>). Additional on-carrier and off-carrier distribution is also planned.
